Who makes container type generators?

Perkins, a Caterpillar Inc. subsidiary, has delivered world-class diesel and gas engines for over 90 years. It offers complete container type generator solutions for diverse markets. In 2025, top diesel generator manufacturers like Shandong Huali, MTU, Aksa, and Perkins are driving the global container type generator market.

Are containerized generators reliable?

Years of use in the rental, oil and gas, mining and other heavy-duty industries have tested the reliability, usability and durability of our containerized generators. Our primary design challenges in developing this line of containerized generators were usability, reliability and functionality for the end user.

Which genset containers are available?

All genset containers are also available with an option for -40°C and most variants can be upgraded for +45°C. A broad range of options, both mechanical and electrical, are available to ensure that our containers meet the project requirements. For example, we offer several heat recovery configurations and exhaust after treatment systems.

What makes Cummins a container type generator?

Cummins' container type generators feature cutting-edge technologies such as automated controls, fuel-efficient engines, and emissions-reduction systems, aligned with its Destination Zero sustainability strategy.

What size generator container do I Need?

Our generator containers for Type 2, 3, and 4 gas engines have a standard 40-foot length. Width and height depend on engine type, the application (power generation only or CHP) and ambient conditions. Customized sizes to accommodate special project requirements are available on request.

What is the standard ventilation for genset containers?

The standard ventilation is designed for ambient temperatures from -25°C to +40°C. The genset containers can be equipped with several additional features to enable operation at lower temperatures on request. Type 6 containers are available with a similarly broad range of options that we offer for the Type 2 / 3 / 4 containers.
