Does Lyten make lithium-sulfur batteries?

Lyten is a manufacturer of 3D graphene supermaterials used in various applications, including lithium-sulfur batteries. The company plans to begin supplying lithium-sulfur batteries and other products to commercial customers from its San Jose, California, facility in early 2024. It is pursuing expansion plans actively in both the U.S. and Europe.

Will Lyten be able to deliver lithium-sulfur batteries in 2024?

Lyten, from its facilities in San Jose, California, plans to deliver both Lithium-Sulfur batteries and lightweighted composite solutions to commercial customers by early 2024 and is actively pursuing expansion plans in the US and Europe.

Will Lyten revolutionize the future of batteries & materials?

Through their innovative "3D Graphene" technology, Lyten is on its way to revolutionize the future of batteries and materials. It's an exciting step for Luxembourg in becoming a hub for future-proof industrial projects in the field of sustainability and mobility. Many sectors will benefit from the company's advancements on their path to Net Zero."
