

Palestinian outdoor power supply brand

Who supplies Palestinian electricity?

The Israel Electric Corporation (IEC) supplies most of the electricity in the Palestinian territories. PETL is the sole buyer of imported electricity for distribution in West Bank Areas A and B and in the Gaza Strip, which in turn supplies the electricity to the six Palestinian distribution companies.

Do big brands support Palestine?

It's rare for big brands to actively support Palestine. Brands that support Palestine vocally are more likely to be small companies. If you want to support businesses that have a strong stance in support of Palestine, you could buy from Zaytoun or the Palestine Solidarity Campaign shop, or subscribe to Ethical Consumer to help fund our research.

Who is responsible for boycotting brands in support of Palestine?

The leading authority on brands to boycott in support of Palestine is the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions (BDS) National Committee, otherwise known as the BNC. The BNC is a coalition of Palestinian organisations which since 2005 has led impactful boycott campaigns against complicit brands, and it sits at the centre of the global BDS movement.

Should we stop buying a brand that supports Palestinian human rights abuses?

Part of what he means by this is for everyone to stop making purchases from or investing in companies that actively support Palestinian human rights abuses. But even if we switch to a brand that isn't complicit in apartheid, it may be complicit in other types of harm to people, the planet, and other animals.
